

Peak Park Conservation Volunteers Consent Form

- You should bring with you a stout pair of boots, old warm clothes, waterproofs or sun hat, a packed lunch and a warm drink.
- Remember your basic tools training, which is given at the start of each project and when in doubt please ask.
- Inform the Supervisor if you need to leave the project site.
- Report any accidents, illness or discomfort to the Supervisor immediately.
- Follow the Country Code.
- You should be aware that although conservation work is not in any way dangerous, there is always a slight element of risk when working in an outdoor environment.
- Conservation projects are undertaken at the volunteer's own risk.
- Consent is required, either from a parent or guardian for volunteers under the age of 18.
- Any individual volunteer or group with persons under the age of 18 attending a project must be accompanied by an adult. The adult must be prepared to act as a leader and take responsibility for the group or individual's actions.
- All PPCV members are covered by our insurance schemes whilst on a project; details will be supplied on request.
- We strongly advise that you have tetanus protection.

Above all, enjoy yourself and help others to do so whatever the weather!
